2. Check your Video clips through the View button next to the URL.

4. Youtube advanced setting

When uploading videos to your channel, you will have the option to allow embedding.

Allowing embedding means that people can re-publish your video on their website or channel.

The screenshot shows the YouTube Advanced Settings interface. The 'Advanced settings' tab is selected and circled in red. The 'Distribution options' section has the 'Allow embedding' checkbox checked and circled in red. The 'Save changes' button at the bottom right is also circled in red. Other visible settings include 'Comments', 'License and rights ownership', 'Syndication', 'Caption certification', 'Age restrictions', 'Category', 'Video language', 'Community contributions', 'Recording date', 'Video statistics', '3D video', and 'Content declaration'.

To turn on the embed feature, go to Video Manager, click Edit under the video you want to submit, then go to advanced Settings and make sure the Allow embedding option is checked to show your video to the referee through the system.
